CU Denver Faculty Assembly Meeting

September 1st, 2020

12:00 pm - 2:00 pm

Zoom

Minutes

Attendees: Michael Zinser, Joann Brennan, Linda Fried, Candan Duran-Aydintug, Dennis DeBay, Esther Sullivan, Gregory Ragland, Kevin Seeber, Sondra Bland, Xiaojun Ren, Margaret Wood, Diana White, Timberley Roane, Geoff Johnson, Roderick Nairn, Kelly See, Christina Gillanders, Diana Tomback, David Bondelevitch, Brad Hinson, Colleen Donnelly, Jarrod Hanson, Maryam Darbeheshti, Andrew Friedson, Eric Baker, Angela Gover, Geeta Verma, Jeffrey Schrader, Peter Anthamatten, Elizabeth Steed, Jeremy Nemeth, Lonnie Schiabe, Vivian Shyu, Tod Duncan, Bruce Neumann, Eric Jewett, Dale Stahl, Fernando Mancilla David, Larry Erbert, Katherine Kelsey, Christy Briles

(12:00 PM)

Michael Zinser - CU Denver Faculty Assembly Chair

- Meeting brought to order.
- Brad Hinson Chair of LETTS Committee
 - LETTS has had its first meeting, a few things are in the works.
 - They are chatting with OIT and ODE regarding the service desk, and the wait times being over an hour. People are working to address this.
 - They are hoping to be involved with the hiring of the new CIO.
 - They are pursuing a way to have Zoom meetings ADA compliant with transcription enabled; there is a matter of achieving ADA compliance and HIPAA compliance simultaneously. OIT is making an effort to enable CU Denver to have an ADA compliant version of Zoom and Anschutz to work with a HIPAA-compliant version
- Colleen Donnelly Chair of the Disabilities Committee
 - There are concerns regarding DRS and what they are demanding from Faculty, and the slow responses from that office.

(12:15 PM)

Roderick Nairn, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor

- The Technology Help for Students resolution was well met and acted upon. Around 1800 students received help and funding for technology. There will be a report put together soon outlining all the numbers from that initiative.
- The Vice Chancellor for Diversity Equity and Inclusion search will begin soon. It has been shifted to a Denver-only position. There are also searches that will start soon for the VC Communication, VC for Student Success, and the Chief Information Officer Position.
- Enrollment in terms of numbers is OK, but the mix of students has changed. We have fewer international students this semester and that is affecting the budget.
- The CU System online initiative is still moving forward, but on a brief pause as another consultant group is being brought in to review the data.
- We are up for our 10-year higher learning commission reaccreditation. It is much more of a compliance-oriented process this time.
 - Last time our accreditation went through as a consolidated institution, and they will be moving forward with that again.
 - The Mission, Vision, and Value statements for the consolidated entity will be used again. Those will need to be endorsed by the shared governance groups and the Regents.
 - Due to the pandemic the commission's visit will primarily be remote.
- Due to the Pandemic a Pass+, Pass/Fail grading system was implemented. There is now a proposal to maintain this change.

(12:30 PM)

Joann Brennan, Interim Associate Vice Chancellor for Faculty Affairs

- The Idea here is to add a P+ to our Pass/Fail system. The proposed system will benefit our students in many ways.
 - The three-layered system provides a bit more nuance to grading.
 - Currently students must do quite a bit of petitioning to use a P/F course as a prerequisite that has a grade requirement. This would make things a bit smoother.
 - A question was raised by David Bondelevitch, with most CAM courses requiring a C not a C-. How will this affect them. The answer was that the students will still need to go through the current exception process.
 - The Faculty Assembly Voted on whether they supported the proposal.
 - The proposal passes with a 25-4-5 (yes-no-abstain) vote
- There was a process change to Late Add.
 - This had originated earlier this summer. There were concerns about the process flow for getting students added into courses. This used to be decentralized, but that shifted. The registrar's office found that thousands of course adds were being processed late. A lot of these were not being approved because of requirement that students and faculty could not see. The new process still maintains instructor approval for courses when deemed necessary. Each faculty member will have to work with their course coordinators to indicate that to add there must be instructor signature.

- There were concerns regarding students joining a course two weeks into the semester, which led some departments to opt out, but still allowed individual faculty members to opt in.
- Moving forward, changes to policy and process are going to be approached differently. A more inclusive review and vetting process will be used.

(12:45 PM)

Margaret Wood, Associate Vice Chancellor for Faculty Achievement

- There are four course formats that were decided over the summer: in-person, remote, hybrid, and online. These will continue into the spring. A guide was created to help give some definition of the formats, located at: https://ucdenver.edu/faculty_staff/faculty/center-for-faculty-development/CETL/Documents/Course%20Format%20Guide.pdf
- There is a concern with how Remote is being handled in terms of student fees. Students don't receive the out of state online only discount. Carrie John and the Office of the Registrar will examine the matter.

(12:55 PM)

Tod Duncan, Vice Chair of the Faculty Assembly

- Duncan is a representative on the Accelerator Committee for online education. Chancellor Marks was concerned about this system process and delayed it for a 6-week pause to address concerns. They have now enlisted a second consultant to look into the data that EY Parthenon collected and plans they developed.

(1:00 PM)

Michelle Marks, Chancellor of The University of Colorado Denver

- Chancellor Marks met with the Faculty Assembly for a listening tour, where the Assembly responded to the following questions.
 - Where does CU Denver have key advantages and momentum?
Responses included:
 - Online learning
 - Attention to first-generation students
 - Interest and quality of teaching, along with research
 - The downtown location: we are the public research institution in Denver
 - Community partnerships
 - Good branding
 - Change to newer faculty
 - What areas need further development and/or are major organizational issues to be addressed?
Responses included:

-A lot of things that are not responsive to faculty governance and inclusion; the faculty governing structure should be responsible for selecting representation, etc.

-Budget model has been redone over the last few years: There were some winners and losers. There are many programs that bring in money for the university and are capable of growing, but do not have the proper incentives in place. More generally, it is not clear that incentives are in place to generate desired effects. We should evaluate the model, and find ways to enable smaller-level units to find ways to grow themselves.

-We are still dealing with a decades-old model in terms of teaching – there is not enough flexibility. We need the availability for buy-outs for people occasionally or reorganizing how they teach.

-Budget stuff; seeking a way to maintain growth through innovative methods

-We don't do enough to showcase our talent.

-Reputation. We should do a better job to highlight our research.

-We face a challenge with our budget; we are so reliant on our student credit hours; we have to plan how to distribute our efforts and priorities between our teaching and research goals.

-We need to be intentional about how well we teach our new students.

-We should not take for granted who we are serving.

- Where are potential future constraints or future cautions?

- We should be recognized for our effort to teach on-line and do so well.

- Expensive administrative appointments; the caution is that if there is such a need, the pitch the institution should be crystal clear – we need to be careful not to bloat up the administration.

- We have a lot of collaborative work with Anschutz. The fact that we are no longer the same campus opens up some opportunity to tie the two campuses together.

- We need tuition waivers for PhD programs. We need to support PhD Programs better.

- Can we become a Hispanic-serving institution?

- Suppose a headline is written about CU Denver in five years—what would you want that headline to say?

- What is one thing we can do to make CU Denver better? (time permitting)

- The Chancellor then gave a very warm introduction regarding her intention for her tenure with the university.

- She raised some of the following ideas:

- Academic freedom: Most universities have this freedom.

- Shared governance balances maximum participation with clear lines for decision-making. The key to shared governance is broad and regular communication.

- Our job is to keep our campus as safe as possible – we are operating under a new safety culture that tries to do this. We have a clear and swift plan to deal with cases we discover on campus. We are working on pandemic fatigue, work-life balance, etc., helping people manage stress, take care of people, etc.

-Diversity, equity, inclusion. What are we going to do about equity at CU Denver? The Chancellor has begun taking some action to address equity. A campus-wide task force on equity will open in October.

-On-line efforts: Marks was clear about not supporting a plan that does not work in terms of the financials. Kennedy issued a six-week pause on the effort. For any solution to work, the campus must understand what the programs mean for students, faculty, and the campus, including how it's going to impact departments and others. There must be a model that works. Our vision for the future must address student needs.

-Enrollment and strategic planning update: Enrollments are generally similar to before, but the composition is different: there are more grads, fewer first-time students, fewer international students. This has had a major impact on our tuition revenues. It is safe to say that our financial future continues to be very tough.

- End of notes

(12:00 PM)

Michael Zinser - CU Denver Faculty Assembly Chair

- Meeting brought to order.
- Faculty Assembly Executive Committee Votes.
 - They voted Unanimously to support the letter brought forward by the LGBTQ+ committee.
 - They voted Unanimously to support APCs position on Regent Policy 3E.

(12:05)

Michelle Marks, Chancellor of The University of Colorado Denver

- Chancellor Marks has almost completed her 100 days of Listening Tour. This have not been easy for our campus during the pandemic, but we are doing a really good job working through it together.
- She joined the Faculty Assembly today to discuss our online initiatives.
 - Upon arriving at CU Denver she was asked to make decisions about our digital future. She reviewed the models that were being created and found they did not work well for our campus. She made her perspectives known and a pause was implemented to allow for a second review of the models.
 - A recommendation has been put forward for a model for ODE and Campus online initiatives. The idea would be for ODE covering non-academic support to the four campuses, without creating a 5th campus. Each campus would negotiate terms with ODE and create their own programs with support from ODE. The goal would be to have ODE become a flexible service that all the campuses can tap into.

- The Chancellor's vision is to serve the market we have been, but better, while being more flexible, with high quality offerings.
- The assembly had a few questions.
 - There was a discussion about overlapping courses from different campuses.
 - There was a comment that the library should be involved in this process.
 - There was a discussion about how CU Denver can differentiate itself within the new model.
- Tobin Bliss and his team is currently working on a program level template for the new ODE model. This is being worked on with the help of various committees.
- There are four vice chancellor level searches launching this semester. It is important to the Chancellor that these searches are transparent. There is a webpage on the Chancellor's homepage where you can track all the searches that are ongoing.
- AHEC has created a community advisory board for the Auraria Police. There will be a faculty member, staff member, and student from each of the institutions on campus.

(1:00 PM)

Roderick Nairn, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor

- They did the fall semester faculty awards virtually this semester, but they still held them.
- Reaccreditation is still underway and they are on track for April. It will be almost an entirely virtual visit except for one individual who must come to campus due to federal law.
 - Work on the Mission, Vision, Value statements has concluded, and they are ready to push them forward into the next phase.
- An update was sent to Thomas Beck regarding a Faculty Assembly inquiry about technology support that we have been able to provide students during the pandemic.
- As far as planning goes there is still uncertainty about the pandemic and where we will be in the spring. They are working with the School of Public Health to make sure the campus is secure and safe.
- The RTP process is underway in the schools and colleges.
- There was a question regarding how FCQs will be used this semester. We will be back to the standard process for FCQs.

(1:15 PM)

Joann Brennan, Interim Associate Vice Chancellor for Faculty Affairs

- A discussion was raised regarding the Credit Hour and Contact Hour Guidelines. We don't currently have a campus document that outlines these guidelines. A drafted document was sent to the Faculty Assembly for input. The hope is to have a finalized document that they can use in spring. This document will help our schools and colleges when building courses.
- The Faculty Activity Reporting tool is almost ready to roll out. They tried to utilize what was working with EFERPA and move it into their new tool. Faculty will find categories in the new tool that are very similar with EFERPA. This tool is being viewed as an iterative tool, and this is currently only the first iterations. The hope is that it will grow and change as needed. They created the tool so it can be customized to best fit our needs. Transparency is very important in the creation, growth, and development of the tool. The goal is that this can be a collaborative process.

(1:30 PM)

Michael Zinser - CU Denver Faculty Assembly Chair

- Approval of May Minutes
 - 23 yes, 5 abstain, 0 no. Minutes approved.
- Approval of September Minutes

Committee Reports

- BPC
 - They have been conducting budget trainings. These will be continuing at various times, and announcements will be distributed.
- APC
 - Members whose schools or colleges are looking at Bylaw revisions, should pay close attention to APS 5060 which is on Faculty Titles.
 - There was a revision of Regent's policy 3E, that addresses high level searches included Dean searches. EPUS and APC have recommended that the language in 3E remain untouched.
- LGBTQ+
 - A letter was drafted with a request that the Faculty Assembly endorse the position of Faculty Council to rescind the Purple Ink Policy.
- DisC
 - AHEC will be changing their snow removal process to stop impeding certain areas.

(12:00 PM)

Michael Zinser - CU Denver Faculty Assembly Chair

- Meeting brought to order.
 - October Minutes Unanimously Approved.

(12:05)

Roderick Nairn, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor

- There is a lot of work on the HLC reaccreditation process. The reaccreditation will happen in April. The review will be completely virtual aside from one representative who will come to campus to comply with federal law.
 - This time around the report is more focused on compliance.
- There have been meetings and a lot of work focused on flexibility around performance evaluations. Please work with Joann Brennan to collaborate on this. The hope is to manage the criteria on a campus level.
- They are also looking at Faculty Titles, and Policy 5060. This is a complicated area that they are working through.

(1:00 PM)

Dale Stahl, Chair of the LGBTQ+ Committee

Katy Mohrman, CLAS, Ethnic Studies

- A letter was distributed last meeting on the shared communication protocol that was drafted by the LGBTQ+ committee. The letter asks that the assembly join with the Faculty Council to ask for the rescinding of the System's shared communication protocol.
- Dale Stahl motions to vote in support of the LGBTQ+ Committee's 1 October 2020 letter asking CU Denver Faculty Assembly to endorse the CU Faculty Council's resolution to rescind the "Shared Communication Protocol"
 - Seconded by David Bondelevitch
 - This motion was tabled.
- Another motion was proposed by Dale Stahl to support the Faculty Council's motion to rescind the "Shared Communication Protocol"
 - Seconded by Thomas Beck.
 - Yes 29, No 0, Abstain 8
- There is a push to continue addressing gender inclusion on our campus. One initiative by the past Chancellor was gender inclusion training. The LGBTQ+ committee thinks it would be good to extend that training to faculty. They are also working with students to identify areas where they interact with University systems that could be approved upon.
 - A starting point for this work is the use of correct pronouns. One problem is that the systems our university uses do not always have correct pronoun information. The systems also do not speak with one another.
 - Pronouns are important for individual's sense of self. Not using correct pronouns has been linked to higher levels of depression and dropping out.
- The LGBTQ+ committee and members of the CU Denver Community would like to push forward a mandatory training on Gender Identity and Expression. There are a lot of ways to institute this type of training, but it seems important to get the ball rolling.
 - There was a suggestion that Canvas have a more comprehensive identity section for students.
- Dale Stahl Motions to give the LGBTQ+ Committee support to explore a mandatory training on Gender Identity and Expression for faculty.
 - Yes 15, No 4, Abstain 18
- Larry Erbert Motions to put original motion from Dale Stahl back on the table. Seconded by David Bondelevitch.
 - Yes 21, No 2, Abstain 14

(1:15 PM)

Daniel Casillas, President of the Student Government Association

- He is proposing a mental health statement for faculty to include in their syllabi.
- There are currently a lot of concerns about the mental health of our students. Especially how COVID-19 has negatively affected them.
- Our University has reached the 25% mark of students who identify as Hispanic, which is also a factor in trying to push for this addition in syllabi.
- Peter Anthamatten motions to support the SGA recommendation to have the Mental Health Statement added into syllabi.
 - Yes 18, No 6, Abstain 13

(1:30 PM)

Jarrold Hanson, Chair of EPPC

Eric Baker, Chair of the APC

- Eric and Jarrold led a discussion on FCQs and Faculty Evaluations. They have been working on getting input from all areas on this topic. The hope to make some amendments to make a more equitable situation who are forced into teaching remote.
- One thought would be to have an exception option instead of overhauling the complete system. Just creating the opportunity for faculty to express why they want an exception.
- There are concerns that for IRC faculty with less job security it could be hard, as it puts the onus on the individuals who are in need.
- Another side is that individuals do not think faculty should have to explain why they need an exception with the way the current semesters have gone. It should just be automatically applied.

(1:40 PM)

Joann Brennan, Interim Associate Vice Chancellor for Faculty Affairs

- The syllabi template is created by Faculty Affairs, and there is conversation about adding an addendum to the template to address the pandemic. Joann would like the Faculty Assembly to review the addendum and provide feedback on the current version. That will be distributed.

(1:50 PM)

Diana White, Chair of BPC

- The Governor's budget was released yesterday. It looks like it will be good for the campus. He proposed that funding for higher education be restored to pre-COVID levels. He also proposed a 3% tuition raise cap. Nothing is final yet, but the good news is that the starting point is strong.

(1:55 PM)

Michael Zinser - CU Denver Faculty Assembly Chair

- There is a motion at the system level that addresses tuition refunds for students due to COVID restrictions. There will be updates as we follow this.

(12:00 PM)

Michael Zinser - CU Denver Faculty Assembly Chair

- Meeting brought to order.

(12:05)

Michelle Marks, Chancellor, University of Colorado Denver

- She recently completed her 100 days of listening tour. The report from that is live on her webpage.
 - There is a need for a new strategic plan.
 - So many universities and institutions get paralyzed because they get stuck and the vision for the institution doesn't come from all levels of our community.
 - She intends for the strategic plan to be meaningful and rely on it to chart the course for our planning processes moving forward.
 - They are going to start the process in December and hope for it to be completed and receive board approval in June.
 - Phase one will be December – January, where they will look at Vision, Value and Identity. Phase one will result in a draft of our new Mission, Vision, and Value statements.
 - Phase 2 will consist of 8 different working groups focused on areas derived from the 100 days of listening tour.
 - There is a hope to create more internship opportunities on campus, and the Chancellor believes this is exactly why we need the Strategic Planning process, so that as a community we can come together and identify where we want to go.
 - For our campus there is going to be a new Steering committee led by Marty Dunn, as well as 8 committees focused on different areas. The hope is to get as many community members involved as possible. It is important to the Chancellor that there is collaboration with Anschutz on some level as well.
- The Chancellor views that having a Denver based Provost is crucial to moving our institution forward.

- There are three other Vice Chancellor searches going on right now.
 - DEI
 - Communications
 - Senior Vice Chancellor for Strategic Enrollment Management and Student Success
- For the Faculty Affairs position, there will be a national search starting in July when the new Provost has started.
- There is a session next week on Tuesday from 9 – 10, for the Faculty Assembly to talk with the Search Committee Chairs and Search Firm regarding our hopes and desires for the Provost.
- We need a strategy to help identify our movement in the Online world.
 - We will be hiring an executive director that will report to the Provost to help support our online initiatives.
 - We will need to figure out what ODE can do for us and what we will need to build for our campus.
 - A communication with an interim solution for this is coming out soon, which will give us a continuity strategy and more time to figure out our plan.

(1:00 PM)

Roderick Nairn, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor

- Due to Covid-19 we are in uncharted waters. The Provost reviewed the resolution regarding evaluations and would like to continue the conversation.
 - Changing the 5-point evaluation form was the first topic in the resolution.
 - The Provost's understanding about the 5-point evaluation is that the state requires a minimum of 3-point scale.
 - The other area of concern for this is for recognizing individuals who have done extremely well, and how that would be lost in a 2-point scale.
 - However it could be possible to look at a 3-point scale.
 - Vivian Shyu has suggested an optional postponement for IRC Faculty who are up for reappointment for 1 year.
 - The Provost would like to review that and get back to UCDALI about that.
 - There is some input that the Provost will need to get from the System regarding some recommendations from the resolution.
 - The Provost expressed openness to work with the differentiated workload.

(1:30 PM)

Joann Brennan, Interim Vice Chancellor for Faculty Affairs

- Joann Brennan has brought forward three policies
- Spring Pilot for a remote day for inclement weather.
 - The idea is to shift classes to remote when there is a weather delay or closure.
 - Tod Duncan brought up a few concerns
 - Faculty who are parents and would have to watch their children at home due to their closures.
 - Students who don't have access to computers.
 - Faculty needing to have enough bandwidth at home.
 - Another concern is timing of announcements of closures and timelines for classes.
- Syllabus Addendum for Spring 2021.
 - The addendum that has been proposed is aimed at helping faculty and students during the spring semester in regard to the pandemic.
 - The Mental Health Statement that was requested by student leadership was added in.
- Credit Hour and Contact hour guidelines document.
 - Joann would like the Faculty Assembly to review the document as it is now in Draft number 2.

- The document aims to describe what we currently do, it outlines guidelines around how we think about contact hours and credit hours.
- This is not a policy document. The hope is to have this guidelines document deployable for this Spring Semester.

(1:50 PM)

Michael Zinser - CU Denver Faculty Assembly Chair

- Motion to approve Minutes, Diana White, and seconded by Andrew Friedson
 - 29 yes, 1 abstain
- There was a question regarding whether or not we would be able to lobby the state to suspend their laws revolving around state employee 3 tier minimum scale.

 - Their committee got in touch with Faculty Council to re-establish a systemwide Access Committee. The committee will look at Climate, pedagogy, and will be more socially focused rather than medically focused.
 - They are also developing their website to have short things about accessibility and pedagogy that are useful for faculty.
 - They are also working to create a committee of Faculty and Staff, who will focus on accessibility on our campus, and being a point group for changes on our campus.
 - This is coming about because in the past working with Facilities only a few people are consulted when things around accessibility come up.
- Academic Personnel Committee
 - They are working on revitalizing CURFA, and looking at the pay equity survey, design and methodology. They are also working on APS 5063, and the Regent policy 11E.
- Educational Policy and Planning Committee
 - They are looking at the syllabus policy. They have been working with Joann on the Pass Fail policy and the Credit hour guidelines. One concern with the policy was some schools and colleges not aligning with the policy and not using the P+. Joann will look into this, as well as some questions about how faculty can see what a grade is if it is helpful in supporting our students.
- LGBTQ+ Committee
 - In response to the FA vote in November, to encourage gender inclusive training, they will hold a pilot with CAM. Depending on how that goes, they will want to roll it out to the whole campus.
- Budget Priorities Committee
 - They are consulting with administration over the next month or so on the budget model. They will be reviewing subvention and the budget model as a whole.
- Committee on the Status of Women
 - They reviewed the lactation policy. Within the policy there are somethings missing that are included in state law. One of those allows a woman to breastfeed in any place that she can be. A space is also required to be provided by employers. They feel like the spaces in North Classroom are not clearly marked.
- Learning, Educational Technology, Teaching and Scholarship Committee

 - They are also very focused on Procurement & the Ethical Enterprise.
 - They are concerned about the criteria used when procuring technology as they want these criteria to be expanded to be more ethical and inclusive.

- The 5th street garage is fully ready to distribute our vaccines once we get them.
- Online Updates
 - Online and hybridity will remain an important part of our mission. The Chancellor is committed to continuing to have a broad online strategy. There is a need for a CU Denver specific digital strategy. We need a leader for this area, and we will be launching a search for that position for our campus next week.
 - We have reached a temporary agreement for 1 year to have ODE to continue supporting preestablished online programs that we have. We are working through a Master Services Agreement, and the terms that we have reached are very favorable for us.
- For Vaccine Access, the Chancellor defines student-facing higher education employees as CU Denver Faculty and Staff. The hope is to get our campus community vaccinated by Fall 2021.
- They are in the middle of the Provost Search, and the Student Success search is underway.
